DEDICATION TO SENIORS

The Preston High School Class of 1980 has built a world together —
a world on the road of experience.

Learning from each other, here we began
the dreams of our future.

We will always remember the laughter, the tears, the caring and the sharing,
but, most of all the unity that we all felt.

There were always the times when we wished
we were dead . . .
Or at least someone else were . . .

But in the end, we were always looking for someone's shoulder to lean on,

and, consequently,
it was always there.

Endurance was something that every person
of the Class of '80 experienced, whether struggling through the
research paper, taking term tests, or living through the last month of high school.

But remembering "the best was yet to come"
everyone seemed to survive.

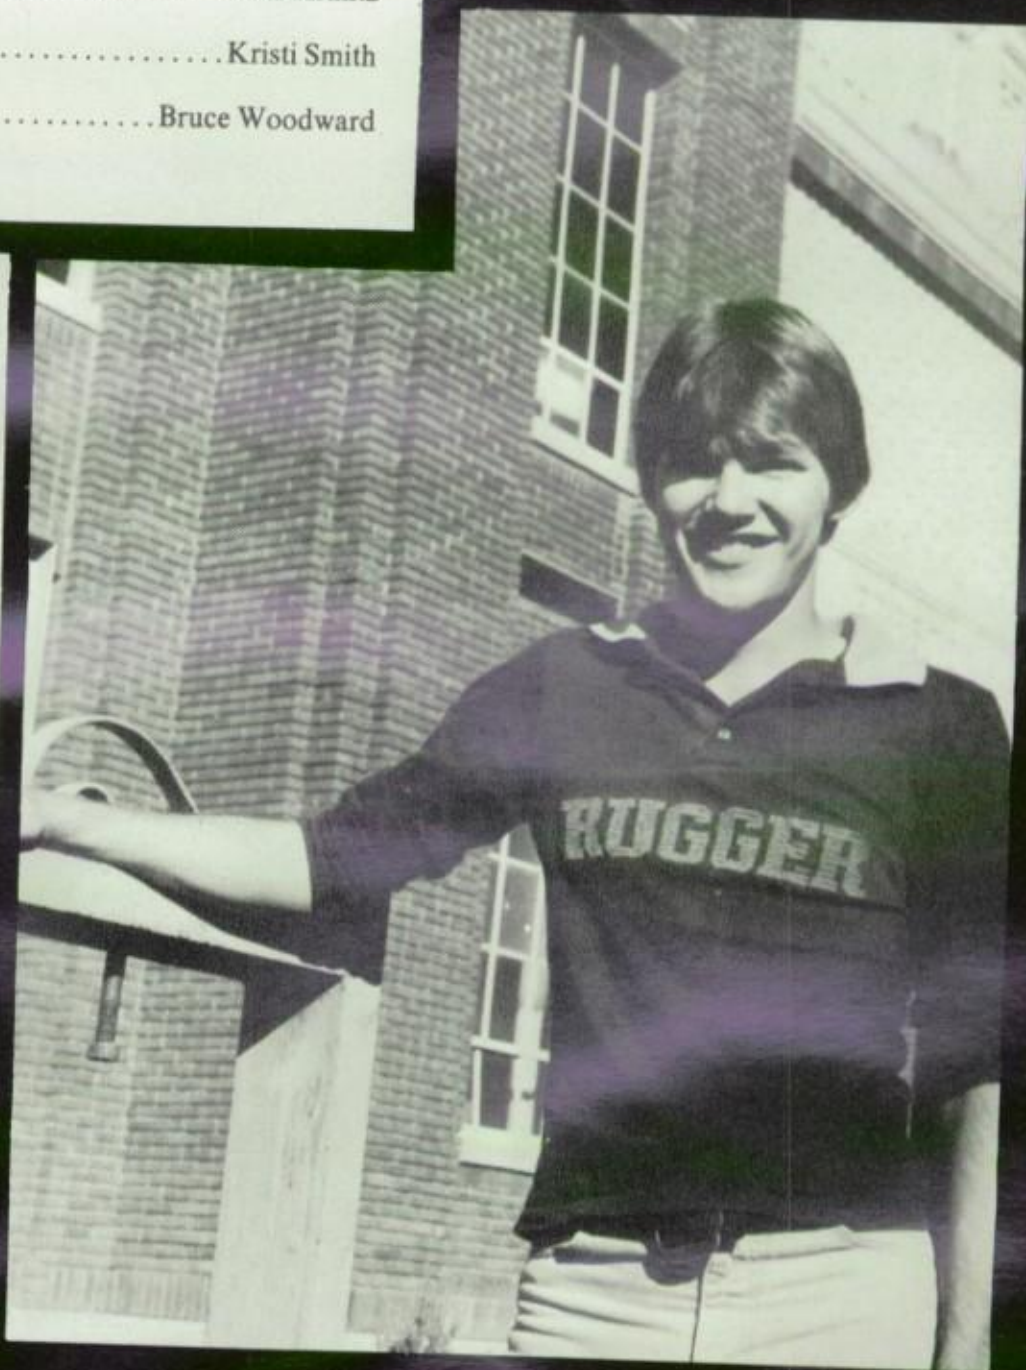

We are individuals — but put all together —
we were one.

And even though the moments were short,
the memories will be forever.

PRINCIPAL

Alfred Koch, Principal

The 1979-80 school year will go down in the annals of Preston High School history as a year of great achievement. Our studentbody did not only reach academic goals but performed excellently in such areas as music, drama and athletics. Seldom, if ever, have our athletic teams brought home as many trophies in one year as our teams have done during this school year. We have outstanding graduates who are going to make contributions to our state and nation because of the outstanding academic preparation which they have acquired.

Achievements such as these did not just happen. They came about through the sacrifice and hard work of 540 students at our high school. It is true that some of the credit should go to the faculty of our school, but the ultimate achievement was made by students. You as students may rightfully be proud of your achievements. May the achievements of the past year be stepping stones to a happy and fulfilling future.

The Yearbook Staff of 1979-80 hopes the students of Preston High School find the Quiver enjoyable as well as memorable. In the years to come, as you think back to your years at PHS you will refer to the annual as a source of memories and friendships.

As we precede through life in our various occupations may you be proud to review your memories at PHS. The Quiver Staff has compiled this yearbook in hopes it will be referred to by both you and your future families.

May your hopes and plans be fulfilled to their fullest and every student be successful in all their endeavors.

The Editors just tore the yearbook to shreds!!
